evanschemistrycorner - writing formulas by crossing over the quickest way to determine the formula of a compound of two elements or polyatomic ions is to use the cross-over rule. look up the oxidation state of each element or ion and reduce to lowest terms. then cross over the oxidation states without the sign to find the subscripts as shown in the diagram to the right. practice packet: unit 2: naming & formula writing - and criss cross down to form ca 3 p 2. try the criss cross and reduce rule to find the formula: chloride sulfide fluoride phosphide lithium aluminum alcl 3 magnesium zinc now we know how to write formulas from their names but we also need to know how to write names from formulas. chemical formula writing worksheet two - imsa - chemical formula writing worksheet two write chemical formulas for the compounds in each box. the names are found by finding the intersection between the cations and anions. example: the first box is the intersection between the "zinc" cation and the "chloride" anion, so you should write "zncl 2", as shown. cations writing formulas and naming compounds - polk school district - writing formulas for ionic and covalent compounds. the compound is ionic if it is composed of a cation and an anion, or a metal and a nonmetal. the elements will be located on opposite sides of the periodic table. they have a high electronegativity difference. the compound is covalent (or molecular) if both elements are nonmetals.
